

Join the Zamorano team as:

Engagement and Fundraising Campaigns Coordinator

Institutional Development Office

Zamorano University

Valle del Yeguaré, Francisco Morazán, Honduras

Why Zamorano?

At Zamorano University, we believe education transforms lives. We also know that strong partnerships with key allies amplify our impact across the region and beyond. We're looking for a committed, creative, and results-driven professional to lead engagement efforts and strengthen our fundraising campaigns. This position plays a vital role in building relationships, driving initiatives that add value, and contributing to the sustainable growth of our institution.

About the Opportunity

If you're passionate about building strategic relationships, driving purpose-driven initiatives, and leading projects that create real impact, this role is for you.

As the Engagement and Fundraising Campaigns Coordinator, you will join a mission-driven team dedicated to expanding the reach and sustainability of our institutional initiatives. You'll help cultivate alliances, develop effective campaigns, and coordinate efforts that connect Zamorano with its partners, donors, and broader communities. Your work will directly support our mission of delivering transformative education.

What You'll Do

- Raise funds for Zamorano's Scholarship Program through annual fundraising campaigns and events aimed at alumni, employees, parents, students, and private-sector partners.
- Lead the Zamoranos Program by coordinating reconnection campaigns, alumni recognition initiatives, and digital platforms that strengthen engagement and promote opportunities—ultimately increasing graduates' and students' sense of belonging.
- Oversee the operation and performance of Zamorano Community, a multifunctional platform supporting community members involved in engagement projects, employability initiatives, tutoring programs, event communication, and segmented messaging.

What We're Looking For

- Graduate of Zamorano University (Agronomic Engineering, Agribusiness Management, Food Agroindustry Engineering, or Environment & Development Engineering) or a Bachelor's degree in Public Relations, Marketing, Communications, or a related field.
- Master's degree in Public Relations, Marketing, or Communications.
- At least 3 years of proven experience in similar roles.

Preferred knowledge and skills:

- Event planning, protocol, and institutional representation
- Digital marketing tools

- Database management
- Advanced Microsoft Office proficiency
- Fundraising strategies
- Employability and interview practices
- Full command of Spanish and English

At Zamorano, You Will Find:

- A vibrant campus where sustainability, innovation, and community come together.
- Opportunities for professional growth and global collaboration.
- A multicultural environment where learning has no limits.
