

Fleet Maintenance Supervisor

Maintenance Management

San Antonio de Oriente, Francisco Morazán, Honduras

Join an institution that develops leaders to transform the world

About the Opportunity

Zamorano University is seeking a highly technical professional with strong operational focus and leadership skills to join the Maintenance Management team as a Fleet Maintenance Supervisor. This role is essential to ensuring the operational continuity of vehicles, machinery, and equipment through efficient, safe, and results-oriented management.

Your Impact at Zamorano University

As Fleet Maintenance Supervisor, you will play a strategic role in institutional operations by ensuring the efficient execution of preventive and corrective maintenance programs. You will lead technical teams, optimize resource utilization, and ensure quality and safety standards in every intervention.

Operations, Leadership, and Continuous Improvement

You will be responsible for planning, coordinating, and supervising the overall workshop operation, including work order management, budget control, inventory oversight, and supervision of outsourced services. You will lead the technical team through task assignment, performance evaluation, and continuous training.

Profile We Are Looking For

Required Qualifications:

- Degree in Mechanical Engineering, Electronics Engineering, or related fields
- Specialized technical training in automotive mechanics, agricultural machinery, or industrial maintenance
- Minimum of five (5) years of experience in maintenance operations
- Experience leading technical teams
- Knowledge of mechanical troubleshooting and diagnostics
- Experience managing inventories, spare parts, and supplies
- Budget preparation and control experience
- Knowledge of occupational health and safety regulations
- Proficiency in digital tools and KPI management
- Valid driver's license and legal documentation in order

Why Zamorano University?

Zamorano University is an institution with more than 80 years of impact across Latin America, recognized for its academic excellence and hands-on approach to agricultural and environmental development. Being part of Zamorano University means joining a community committed to developing leaders who create solutions to the challenges of rural development and food security. More than a position, it is an opportunity to contribute to the progress of thousands of young people and generate regional impact with global reach.

How to Apply

Interested candidates should submit the following documents to:

talentohumano@zamorano.edu

Please include: a cover letter explaining your motivation and alignment with the required profile, and resume including at least two (2) professional references.

Application deadline: May 31, 2026

Non-Discrimination Policy

Zamorano University does not discriminate based on ethnicity, race, religion, gender, or nationality in the administration of its educational and admissions policies, financial aid programs, extracurricular activities, employment practices, or any other institutional activity.