Join our team and become part of a community that creates meaningful impact across the region.

About the Opportunity

As an Agri-Food Innovation and Entrepreneurship Technician, you will support the implementation of the AgroHub project by strengthening the agri-food innovation ecosystem and promoting technological solutions in the field.

What You'll Do

- Coordinate and deliver training sessions in agricultural innovation and sustainable production.
- Provide technical assistance to producers on innovative solutions (agrifoodtech).
- Conduct field monitoring and follow-up in intervention areas.
- Support incubation and acceleration programs for agri-food ventures.
- Develop studies on the innovation ecosystem and sector technology demand.
- Facilitate coordination among key stakeholders and support project events.

What We're Looking For

- Bachelor's degree in Agronomy, Agroindustry, Environment and Development, or a related field.
- At least three (3) years of proven experience in agricultural production, agricultural innovation, agro-processing, and/or agri-food entrepreneurship.
- Experience in development projects (preferred).
- Experience facilitating training events or knowledge exchange with diverse agri-food sector stakeholders.
- Knowledge of sustainable agri-food systems.
- Experience in agricultural innovation (preferred).
- Experience organizing events.

- Strong teamwork and communication skills.
- Excellent written and verbal communication skills.
- Valid driver's license.
- Must reside in El Salvador.
- Advanced English proficiency: able to understand a wide range of complex texts and recognize implicit meaning; communicates fluently and clearly with minimal effort in expression.
